HELP A FRIEND!

On the morning of November 30th, 2025, Anchor Rock Club's Chief Sound Engineer David Earl had an entire trailer of equipment stolen! While the trailer has been recovered, the equipment has vanished. The community is coming together, in a few different ways, to help a local pro get back on his feet. The Atlantic City club is putting together a benefit show on January 9th for him, but in case you can't make it, here is the GoFundMe, where you can directly help David recover from this crazy loss of thousands of dollars!

PENNSAUKEN'S OWN URBANZAYY CONNECTS CULTURE & COMMUNITY

By Dan Coyle

Whether it was playing high school sports, or collaborating with other artists in the Camden hip-hop scene, local rapper & artist UrbanZayy has been focused on who he can help ever since his days at Pennsauken Technical High School. He tells The Smoke Signal “teamwork makes the dreamwork, and nobody can truly do everything on their own.”

His newest project “Ash & Aura” is a perfect example of that teamwork attitude. Zayy puts up a strong offering with this EP, and it’s the kind of thing that would do just fine if he went solo for the entirety, but he just can’t help but share the love, with features from Saraswwati, Ish Williams, and Mir Fontane (featured in our Sept 2025 issue). These choices definitely pay off, as each one adds something unique to the project.

Zayy is working with Cuzzie’s Dispensary & Delivery in Camden on some mutual promotion, and if you use code “INVDR” on online orders with them, you’ll get a whopping 35% off your first order of $70 or more!

Cannabinoid Hyperemesis Syndrome (CHS) is a medical condition that can develop in those who have a history of long-term cannabis use. Symptoms include severe abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting, reduced appetite, and anxiety. It is estimated to affect millions of Americans every year!

The Smoke Signal is proud to partner with Janiris Almonte, a local cannabis educator & professional, who wrote a guide for those suffer from this condition to address their symptoms and find community with others who have experienced CHS!

FYI: Homeless shelters & food pantries get a lot of donations & volunteers during the holidays, but that always slows down after the New Year. Help is needed every month!

Belushi’s Farm takes root in South Jersey!

By Dan Coyle

It was a brisk fall night in Buena, when Bellview Winery hosted the launch party for the Belushi’s Farm brands to the NJ market. Industry folks, dispo employees, and fans of the Blues Brothers-style backup band that accompanies Jim Belushi, enjoyed a great night, kicked off by remarks by the man himself.

“If my brother was a pothead, he’d be alive today!”, he said in a section of the speech which highlighted his desire to help those suffering with opioid addiction, by introducing them to cannabis. This has been a longtime advocacy & interest for Belushi, who started Belushi’s Farm 10 years ago on a farm in southwest Oregon.

Belushi is in it for the love of the game, not a check, like some other celebrity-associated brands on the market. It’s evident that he cares about the plant, and the people who bring it to you, and advocacy has always been a huge part of that. From the harm reduction that cannabis allows those with opioid addiction, to the legislative & community push to reschedule cannabis federally, Jim remains dedicated to the medicine of cannabis and spreading the high to as many people as possible!

With the help of the local experts at High Grass Farms, Belushi brings 3 brands to the NJ market: Blues Brothers, the “working man’s weed”, Belushi’s Farm, the premium selection, and Big Sur Holy Weed, which is the 60s & 70s throwback brand featuring Sage, the cornerstone strain that evokes hippies in a field dancing during the Summer of Love!

These brands are available at all High Grass Farms retail partners in South Jersey!

I got the chance to interview Jim on his tour of Jersey Joint Dispensary in Glassboro! Check it out here:

WHAT “INDICA” AND “SATIVA” STILL MEAN

BY KIRA RUSSELL

EVEN AS CANNABIS SCIENCE MOVES PAST THE INDICA/SATIVA DIVIDE, THESE LABELS STILL SHAPE HOW PEOPLE CHOOSE THEIR WEED. THEY ACT AS A SHORTCUT, A QUICK MENTAL MAP FOR HOW SOMEONE EXPECTS TO FEEL, EVEN IF THE REALITY IS MORE NUANCED.

INDICA HAS BECOME SHORTHAND FOR RELAXATION, BODY EFFECTS, AND WINDING DOWN. SATIVA SIGNALS ENERGY, CREATIVITY, AND MOVEMENT. WHILE THOSE ASSOCIATIONS AREN’T SCIENTIFICALLY PRECISE, THEY REMAIN USEFUL BECAUSE THEY’RE FAMILIAR.

TODAY, THEY FUNCTION LESS AS BIOLOGICAL CATEGORIES AND MORE AS DESCRIPTIVE LANGUAGE, HELPING PEOPLE COMMUNICATE INTENTION BEFORE DIVING DEEPER INTO TERPENES AND CANNABINOID PROFILES.
